PROPOSED ANTI-RACING LEGISLATION MEETS WITH FAVOR AT COLUMBIA.

BILL

Majority of Legislative Judiciary Presents Favorable Report After Hearing Arguments and There Will Be a Minority Report as Well.

Charleston, S. C., January 19.—A favorable report on the anti-betting bill was made at Columbia last night by the Senate and House judiciary committee. Several members of the committee were opposed to the bill and they will submit a minority report.

The racing interests were represented at yesterday's hearing by prominent citizens of Charleston, who voiced their opposition to any proposed hostile legislation. Ninety-five per cent of the business interests of Charleston also made it known to the committee through their representative that they were opposed to any legislation that would interfere with the racing. Several ministers were those most active in favoring the suppression of the racing.

The bill will go on the calendar and take its usual course, with others, for it is not expected that it will receive any special consideration, and the racing men are not at all alarmed that there will be any interference with the sport during this season.

Rain which fell this morning again retarded progress on construction work at the track, but with the cessation of the moisture this afternoon all was again activity and it is now thought certain that no further obstacles will be encountered to prevent the opening on Wednesday next.

The horsemen are jubilant over the happy termination of the threatened difficulty with the Jockey Club have been perfected. Assistant Secretary Algernon Daingerfield will arrive here on Sunday next and immediately begin the issuing of licenses to applicants. It is thought that no difficulty will be experienced by those horsemen who raced at Columbia in the matter of getting reinstatement and it is expected that this application will be acted on at once.

Messrs. Marshall and Hughes, who returned today from their mission to New York on behalf of the association, announced that everything had been adjusted satisfactorily and that the racing here will be conducted under the Jockey Club rules. E. C. Smith, who will represent the Jockey Club as steward, will arrive with Mr. Daingerfield next Sunday. William Snyder, assistant to starter Dade, arrived today and will begin schooling horses as soon as the track becomes available for the horsemen.

J. S. Hawkins was an arrival today, coming here from his home near Lexington, Ky.

Frank (Humming Bird) Tyler came from New York and will be among the layers who will operate during the meeting.

Dr. W. G. King-Dodds came in advance of his horses, which are at present quartered at Norfolik, The news, that the anti-racing hill introduced in Jeckey Butwell will likely sign a contract offered him by H. B. Duryea to ride in France this season.

Trainers at Palmetto Park are making every use of the postponement in the opening of the race meeting and to many the delay is decidedly welcome. It affords them a chance to tighten up their charges. The inside course is still being used for the galloping of the horses.

George Ham, who is training the Gerst string, has the following two-year-olds: Yorkville, b. c, by Yorkshire Lad—Suste Bush; Claretta Burns, ch. f. by Ort Wells—Sweet Eileen, and Mama Johnson, ch. f. by Ocearion—Over. All three are built along racy lines and move along smoothly in their galloping exercises.

W. F. Schulte's Zeinap, King Olympian and Captain Bravo are training satisfactorily here.

DEATH OF GALLINULE IN IRELAND.

Sire of Pretty Polly, Wildfowler and White Eagle Passes Away Unexpectedly at Owner's Farm.

One of the most renowned horses of recent years, the great Irish sire, Gallinule, died at the Brownstown Stud. Curragh. County Kildare, Ireland, January B, at the age of twenty-eight years. He was a horse of sach remarkable vigor that his death was unexpected and it had been announced that he was retired from public service and would only be mated with his owner's mares this year. London Sporting Life gives the following comprehensive sketch of his career:

"He was a chestnut horse by Isonomy-Moorhen, and belonged to Capt. J. H. Greer. Gailinule's stam, like the mother of the recently defunct Isinglass (Deadlock), had a somewhat romantic career. Moorhen once belonged to the late Duke of Devonshire, and after winning a selling race, she was hought for 140 guineas by the late Tom Green. He in turn parted with her to J. C. Hill, a well-known northern sportsman, who put her to jumping, at which she proved herself very proficient. Mr. Hill ultimately sent the mare to Isonomy, and Gallinule was the result of the alliance.

"The feal was sold to the late Marquis of Ailesbury, then Lord Savernake, and as a two-year-old won three races, including the valuable National Breeders' Produce Stakes. Gallinule then trained was the result of the alliance.

"The feal was sold to the late Marquis of Allesbury, then Lord Savernake, and as a two-year-old won three races, including the valuable National Breeders' Produce Stakes. Gallinule then trained off, and was sold to the late Abington Baird, who lost a lot of money over him in the Lincolnshire Handicap of 1889, won by Wise Man. Mr. Baird eventually sold the horse to Captain Greer for one rhousand grineas—one of the greatest bargains in horseflesh ever secured.

"When Gallinule went to the stud in Ireland he was free to mares. For several years past his fee has been 200 guineas, and he has made a mark equaled by few stallions. In 1893 he had but one winner, viz., Ballybur, which won a selling plate at the Derby November meeting. From that day Gallinule's stock began to assert themselves, and in the following year we find Portmarnock, Lesterlin and Rock Dove, a trio which were destined to win big races, making their first appearances. Lesterlin won two races in Ireland before coming over here and carrying off the Chesterfield Nursery at Derby from a big field. Rock Dove in the following year wen the Cesarewitch, and Gazetteer the Hurst Park Summer Handicap, while Portmarnock and others carried off races in Ireland.

"In 1896 very few of Gallinule's progeny won races in England, but in Ireland they accounted for thirteen. Portmarnock, however, won'the Rous Memorial Stakes at Ascot. The following season Gallinule's descendants began to make a much more pronounced mark, for amongst them were Bittern, winner of the Great Surrey Breeders' Foal Stakes at Epsom Spring, Wildfowler, which carried off three races, Sirenia, Waterhen and Mount Prospect, no fewer than thirty-four events in England and Ireland being won, the total value of which was $45.675.

THIRTY LEADING MONEY-WINNING FOUR-YEAR-OLDS OF 1911

It fell to George Odom's fleet filly, Follie Levy, to lead the four-year-olds of 1911 in the important item of money won. Her specialty was that instantly ready order of electric speed characteristic of the true sprinter and it was in short distance racing that her successes were achieved. She won the Jalisco Stakes at Juarez, three-quarters in 1:112, with 114 pounds up; Tabasco Stakes at the same track, three-quarters in 1:1135, carrying 125 pounds; five and a half furlongs in 1:05½, with 124 pounds on her back; the Colonel Stakes at Louisville, three-quarters in 1:125½ and having up 114 pounds; the Pontchartrain Stakes at Windsor, three-quarters in 1:13½, 116 pounds. At Fort Erie she gave the great colt, Novelty, his only defeat of the year when, carrying 110 pounds to his 120, she won at three-quarters in 1:11½. At the Louisville fail meeting she took up 120 pounds and won a purse at three-quarters in 1:11½. The instances cited serve to illustrate her extraordinary speed. Next to her in the whining list came the at times fast horse, Carlton G., a stayer and son of a great English stayer and weight carrier. John T. Ireland's Cherryola was something of a disappointment, but won some good races and brought up third in the list. Horses lower down in the list of thirty leading winners from which better things might reasonably have been expected than they achieved were Geean Bound, Countless, Hampton Court, Bob R. and Polls, all falling to race to the best promise of their three-year-old form. In fact, while the three-year-olds of 1911 were apparently of superior class, the four-year-olds were distinctly mediocre. The records of the thirty best money-winning four-year-olds were as follows:

1911 SHOWING OF FORMER JOCKEY ODOM'S STABLE

In 1911 George Odom's horses won the aggregate of $27,213, a modest gain over his record of $26,366 in 1910. The swift filly, Follie Levy, was the main reliance of his stable, but Prince Gal, Fireman, Nimbus, Tourist, Upright and Ben Lasca were all helpful servants under the colors of the Georgia turfman and expected of high degree. As a turfman Odom has never achieved the eminence he attained as a rider, but from the time he made his debut as an owner he has made manifest the gift of being able to discern horses capable of winning and has but little useless material in his stable, the result being that he annually figures respectably in the list of winning owners and probably conducts his stable profitably. The record of his stable for 1911 was as follows:

Gallinule's stock accounted for thirty-five races, value $91,780. The chief contributor to this sum was Wildfowler, whose St. Leger success netted $25,000. Baldoyle did well in this, his first, season, securing three races, all at Manchester; Gazetteer won four races; General Peace, two; Mount Prospect, two; Waterhen, two, including the Derby Cup; Portnarnock, the Salford Borough Handleap, at Manchester; and Sirenia, the Duke of York Stakes, at Konnton.

two; Waterhen, two, including the Derby Cup; Portmarnock, the Salford Borough Handicap, at Manchester; and Sirenia, the Duke of York Stakes, at Kempton.

"General Peace won the Lincolnshire Handicap the next season, while Sirenia carried off the Laacashire Handicap at Manchester; and in Ireland Oppressor and Sicinorb were the most successful. A lengthy list of winners represented Gallinale in 1900, included amongst them being Courlan, Eleca, Gallinaria, Game Hen, General Peace, Good Mcraing, Goosander, Mount Prospect, Oppressor, Sirenia, and Waterhen. Sirenia had previously shown her liking for the Kempton Park track, and now succeeded in winning the Jubilee Stakes from a race good field of handicap horses, carrying the big weight of 118 pounds. A total of $79.650 stood to his credit at the end of the season; but, big though it was, that of 1901 left it far behind, as the product of thirty-eight races realized $102.275. Game Chick won six times, her successes being in the Princess' Cup at Newmarket First July; National Breeders' Produce Stakes at Sandown Park; Champagne Stakes, at Doncaster; Autumn Breeders' Foal Plate and Michaelmas Plate, at Manchester, Bella Gallina only scored once, but that success was worth $18,500—the Coronation Stakes, at Ascot. Mount Prospect earned $5.000 by his victory in the Liverpool Cup; while Conquering Hero won on eight occasions, mostly in Ireland. The year 1902 saw the advent on the turf of Fariman, who won all his engagements. He commenced by winning the Great Lancashire Breeders' Produce Stakes, at Liverpool; Anglesey Stakes, at the Curragh; and Great Sapling Plate at Sandown Park. This season introduced us to Hammerkop, who won four good races, the total value of which was just over $20,000, towards the grand aggregate of $67,000.

"The year 1903 will ever be memorable for the first appearance of the peerless mare Pretty Poliy. She made her debut in the British Dominion Two Year Old race at Sandown Park, and ridden by C. Trigg finished ten lengths in front of her nearest op events, totalling $132,390.

The season of 1904 proved the best, for with Pretty Polly winning the classic races confined to fillies she placed a further $92,200 to her sire's credit. In addition to the One Thousand Guineas and Oaks, she also won the Coronation Stakes at Ascot and the Doncaster St. Leger, the Nassau Stakes at Goodwood, Park Hill Stakes at Doncaster, and Free Handicap Sweepstakes at Newmarket Houghton. She, however, suffered her first defeat, being beaten by Presto II, in France, Galantine won $18,770 as the product of four successes, while Santry's three victories realized $10,250, and Hammerkop's two, $5,710. Gallinule's winning total reached $154,625.

"Pretty Poily won four races in 1905, but they only amounted to $17,100, her first success of the year being in the Coronation Cup at Epsom, and the biggest contributor towards the aggregate of $126, 145 standing to Gallinule's name was the two-year-old Sarcelle, whose three victories included the National Breeders' Produce Stakes at Sandown Park, Ulalume, another two-year-old, won five races and Adula, three races. Hammerkop won the Alexandra Plate at Ascot and the Cesarewitch, while Glenamoy scored in the Queen's Prize at Kempton.

"We saw the last of Pretty Polly in 1906, for fiter being beaten in the Ascot Gold Cup by Bachelor's Button she was retired. She had, however, again won the Coronation Cup at Epsom. Chief contributor in this year was another two-year-old, this being Stieve Gallion, whose three successes were worth $20,450, and included the New Stakes at Ascot and the Champagne Stakes at Doncaster. Rochetter also did well, winning on five occasious, including the Stewards' Cup. Hammerkop again won the Alexandra Plate at Ascot, while Gala Wreath and Polussin each won over $5,000.

"The year of 1907 again saw Gallinule's stock in the ascendant. Sleve Gallion started the season well by scoring in the Craven Stakes at Newmarket, and following it up by victory in the Two Thousand Guineas. He was then heavily backed for the Berby, but failed to stay, and was beaten by both Orby and Wool Winder. He only ran once afterwards, winning the St. James' Palace Stakes at Ascot, and being then sold to go to Germany.

"Another good two-year-old made his appearance in White Eagle, which cantered away with the Woodcote Stakes, and after two further victories won the National Breeders' Produce Stakes at Sandown. All Black's three races were worth $12,000. In contradistinction to his earlier seasons, nearly all solutions in the same season of the produce

LEGISLATION IN CANADA

GOVERNMENT TO PASS ACT REGULATING IN-CORPORATION OF RACING ORGANIZATIONS.

Sanction of Legislature or Federal Parliament to Be Necessary Hereafter Instead of Simple Procedure of Securing Letters Patent.

Ottawa, Ont., January 19.—An important amendment to the Criminal Code, in which racing men will be interested, will be introduced by the Hon. C. J. Doherty. The amendment will do away with the custom of incorporating racing associations by the simple process of securing letters patent from the State Department. Hereafter these must be secured, if the amendment prevails, by incorporation through the Act of Legislature or of the Federal Parliament. The bill has caused a run on the State Department for charters, the object of the applicants being to get in ahead of the prospective legislation. It is understood that these efforts will be without avail, as the bill to be brought in by the government will, when passed, take effect from January 1, 1912.

The measure is designed to prevent the promiscuous establishment of race tracks in Canada,

THE ROTHSCHILDS AS TURFMEN

THE ROTHSCHILDS AS TURFMEN.

Racing institutions in France are greatly indebted to the Rothschilds, whose colors have been carried prominently in all the important events since Kilt won the French Derby in 1876. There are altogether six Rothschilds who have registered variations of blue and yellow as their racing colors. The head of the family, Baron Rothschild himself, is entitled here to the plain blue jacket with the yellow cap; Baron Edouard de Rothschild has adopted blue and yellow hoops, Baron Maurice de Rothschild has a blue jacket with yellow braid and yellow sleeves. Mr. James A. de Rothschild takes blue and yellow chevrons, and Baron Robert de Rothschild has blue and yellow stripes.

Mr. Leopold de Rothschild, whose colors in England are the original blue jacket with the yellow cap, has registered in France yellow and blue hoops. The Baroness Henri de Rothschild, who interests herself in breeding, and owns the mare Sapho (by St. Damien—Sagesse by Wisdom), has no race-horses in training. Baron de Rothschild and Baron Edouard are jointly interested in the Haras de Meautry at Touques, near Trouville in Normandy. I remember this magnificent stud farm from the days when it was under the direction of old Balchin, a Devonshire man, who was as proud of his cider and its apple-jack as he was of his colts and fillies. Free Lynham then used to train for the Rothschilds. Free Lynham then used to train for the Rothschilds. Baron de Rothschild was taillons at Meautry, these being Le Rot Solell, by Heaume and Exorie, by Eryx. The former won the Grand Prix de Paris in 1898. Baron Edouard has four stallions. Sly Fox, by Flying Fox; Sans Souci II., by Le Roslell; Lenon Squash, by Codoman, and St. Just. by St. Frusquin.

There are no fewer than seventy broodmares at Meautry, the best of them being Field Money, by Winkfield, imported in 1902; Messenger Girl, by Laveno, imported in 1902; Messenger Girl, by Laveno, imported in 1902; Ranetions, by St. Simon, imported in 1902; Ranetions, by St. Simon, imported in 1902; Ranet

Most of Verdiana, and a colt named Winkelried, by Winkfield's Pride out of Queen of the Rand. Most of these were bred by Baron Maurice himself; he has two stud farms, one at Chaumont-en-Vexin, and the other at Chaumpagn-Saint Hilaire. The director of these establishments is M. G. # KOOTENAY IS WINNER OF HANDICAP

Pride of Lismore Adjudged Best Horse in Race, but Injudicially Ridden.

El Paso, Tex., January 19.—Kootenay defeated a fair band of sprinters when he won the five and a half furlongs handicap at Juarez this afternoon. Well handled by Taplin, he took the lead soon after the rise of the barrier and, standing a drive gamely, outstayed the fast finishing Dr. Dougherty and Pride of Lismore. The latter was probably the best horse in the race, but Denny attempted waiting tactics with the gigantic sprinter and was beaten two heads on the post.

The racing was formful and exciting and was witnessed by an extra large crowd, with the fair sex, it being Ladies Day, well represented.

The apprentice rider, Carter, had a nasty fall from Angelus in the last race near the half mile post. The lad was lucky to escape injury aside from a few bruises.

E. G. Soule failed to cut in today, reducing the number of books to ten.

IN FAVOR OF THE GITTINS BILL.

Agricultural Societies of New York State Favor Repeal of Directors' Liability Law.

Albany, N. Y., January 19.—The State Association of County Agricultural Societies, at its twenty-third annual meeting here today, at the city hall, adopted a resolution endorsing Senator Gittens' bill amending the anti-gambling law so as to eliminate that portion of the law which holds directors of race tracks liable for any gambling on their grounds whether they have knowledge of the transaction or not.

The legislature committee of the association was empowered to interview senators and assemblymen and endeavor to have the objectionable section of the law repealed.

ARE YOU A

If Not--GET BUSY!

The GOLD MINER is a man who owns a list of the GOLD MINE STABLE. The STABLE is my selection of the WINNERS in different Stables at Juarez—horses that the owners depend on for expenses, making twenty in the string, and every one on edge. You can look up their past races and be convinced. With this stable I will send the BRODERICK SYSTEM which will make you the BRODERICK SYSTEM which will make you the Surest winner playing horses today. It is so simple that any child that can count 1-2-3 can use it. I GUARANTEE that with $28 you can have six losers out of nine races at odds of 6-5 and make fair wages, and odds of 2-1 or better is VELVET. This System is a dandy for playing favorites, but I think that after looking over Stable you will stick to it. Look up past performances of Stable, figure back with System and be convinced.

My price for STABLE SELECTIONS AND SYSTEM is ridicalously cheap. You pay more for one tip and I am giving you twenty and the system for $5.00. Do not overlook this. Send, at once, Express letter or Telegraph Subscriptions. MAIL ORDERS REFUSED. PRICE $5.00. Cut this ad. out, as the longer you are without this the more money you are losing. Every two weeks my connections will add horses that are getting on edge, and drop others that are training off, so I will have a winning Stable at all times. Address
